

BHARATIYA SANGYAHARAK ASSOCIATION
(Association of Anesthesiologists on Indian Medicine)

Bharatiya Sangyahaarak Association was established in 1996 at the India's holy city of Varanasi. Aim of the Association is to bring the specialists of Indian Medicine, who are working in the field of Pain Relief and Sangyahaaran, under one umbrella. Association also aims to protect and safe guard the rights of Anaesthetists of Indian Medicine. It organizes Conferences almost every year and provides platform for the young scientists to present their research work and to have exchange of thoughts amongst them. Since it is very important to keep pace with the developments in the field of Pain Relief, organization of Seminars and Workshops is its regular feature. "Sangyahaaran Shodh" is the Official Journal of the Association and published bi-annually.

Varanasi

Varanasi is the oldest living city in the world. It is said that Hinduism developed here between its two rivers - the Varuna and the Assi and it is no surprise that millions of pilgrims visit the City every year to achieve the ultimate Salvation. Since Varanasi's Original name Kashi is derived from the word 'Kasha' which means light, Varanasi is Often Called the City of lights. 'Benaras is older than history, older than tradition, older even than legend and looks twice as old as all of them put together,' writes Mark Twain, Quite rightly so. For the city figures prominently in the epic Mahabharata and even finds mention in Pauranic literature which date its existence back to three millennia. The city of temples reverberates to the sound of clanging bells and Sanskrit hymns, it also buzzes with the din that emanates from its bustling bazaars along its maze of serpentine lanes - all of which somehow seem to be leading to the famous bathing ghats of Varanasi. There is little to compare with the splendour of Benaras, seen from the river at the crack of dawn. Varanasi has always been a great centre for culture, education and learning.

Dear Colleague,

On behalf of the organising committee, we feel honoured in inviting you to join us for the 18th annual conference and 4th International congress of Association of Anesthesiologist of Indian Medicine to be held in Varanasi from 9th-10th April 2016. It will be our endeavour to update you with recent developments and new modalities in the fields of Anaesthesia, Critical Care and Pain Management. Distinguished faculty from India and abroad will participate in truly interactive discussions.

The venue of conference is the cultural and religious center of India since time immemorial. Its presiding deity is Lord Shiva. Gautam Buddha delivered his first sermon at Sarnath, which is not too far off from Varanasi. The city is situated on the bank of the Holy River Ganges and a visit to the Ghats makes us think of our heritage. Banaras Hindu University is the immortalized dream of Mahamana Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya.

For accompanying persons, Varanasi offers many places of natural, archeological and cultural significance to visit. The weather in April is almost pleasant with temperature ranging between 25^o to 35^o.

We are eagerly awaiting your arrival in Varanasi. Your presence and active participation will actually result in success of the Conference.

Looking forward to see you at Varanasi.
